

Clean Version of Amended Paragraph

43

The seam is deemed to be watertight when the water entry pressure of the seam is greater than 0.13 bar when measured using the suture test as explained above.
